The story of success continues – AMOS is now represented in Singapore
April 2013

Swiss-AS opens its second AMOS Business Unit outside Switzerland

Only two years after collaborating with Lufthansa Systems to gain a bigger market share in the Americas, Swiss-AS continues its strategic expansion plans – now towards the East. Swiss-AS is proud to announce the opening of an AMOS representation in Singapore in cooperation with Lufthansa Systems.

As the set-up in Miami has proven its worth over the last two years, Swiss-AS is pleased to partner with Lufthansa Systems again to market AMOS more actively in another non-European market. The newly established Business Unit is exclusively dedicated to AMOS and will initially focus on sales and implementation activities. Regarding the location, Singapore seems to be the perfect hub to easily reach other parts of the Asia Pacific region.

The Asia Pacific region - a promising growth market

“The Asia Pacific market is very interesting for us and we expect lots of potential for AMOS implementations in this region. Although AMOS is already used in South-East Asia, we intend to further intensify our presence there,” explains Ronald Schaeuffele, CEO of Swiss-AS.

The Asia Pacific region is known in the aviation business as one of the most important growth markets worldwide. The fact that a remarkable percentage of the local airlines and MRO providers do not have a professional M&E system in place has encouraged Swiss-AS to embark on an exciting new adventure, this time in Singapore.
